The app supports the usual file manager controls (directory tree, copy, move, rename, view file, hexview file, view graphic file, edit file, delete file, compare files, find file, make directory, network drive un-mapping) and zip file handling. It uses the mouse along with the Ctrl and Alt keys to navigate around in the 3D space provided (pan, zoom and rotate). And you are even given control over background color etc. Version 1.2 includes 3D icons, 3D trace route, 3D ping, private chat and an FTP server. AutoD-v2 Description: This is a hotfix to make some minor improvements to autoD-v1. Some of the changes include the reset button function being added, a graphics redraw function, some small improvements to the parsing code and of course support for the gzip archive format. It is strongly advised that all previous versions are removed as the new version is nearly identical, apart from the new reset button functionality. If you currently own a version of autoD-v1 and you do not wish to lose your data, you should keep that version (with a couple of weeks of backups) and then re-install autoD-v2, or you can buy autoD-v1 as a full package from the autoD website.
